

RACHEL MATZ

As a New York trained actor and singer, Rachel has performed in venues including Off-Broadway, Summer Stock, a National Tour, and Independent Film. After 20 years in NYC, she now resides in South Florida, and currently, she is a South Florida voice and dubbing talent as well as an acting and voice coach/teacher. She earned her MFA from the Actors Studio MFA Program at The New School University and her BA in Theatre from Barnard College/Columbia University. She has studied with top industry professionals such as Elizabeth Kemp, Judith Farris, and Nova Thomas. As the former Casting Manager of an audio production company focusing on voice work, voice dubbing, and lip sync, Rachel had the opportunity to audition and work with new and established voice and acting talents. Her experience as both a performer and a casting professional will provide her students with a well-rounded artistic and professional perspective. Rachel strives to nurture, inspire, and encourage students to develop their talent and artistic ability to their greatest potential in a healthy, creative environment.
